

ASHER PERES

Personal

Born in France, 1934

Immigrated to Israel, 1949

Married to Aviva Grunspan, 1958

Education

B. Sc. Mechanical Eng., Technion (Haifa) 1956

Ingénieur en Génie Atomique, I.N.S.T.N. (Saclay) 1957

D. Sc. Theoretical Physics, Technion (Haifa) 1959

Academic appointments

Technion—Israel Institute of Technology (Haifa): Lecturer, 1959; Associate Professor, 1962; Professor, 1967; Gerard Swope Professor of Physics, 1980; Distinguished Professor, 1988

University of Maryland (College Park): Visiting Professor, 1967–68

Drexel University (Philadelphia): Visiting Professor, 1975–76

Short visits (2 to 8 months)

Princeton University (1961); Syracuse University (1962); Bell Laboratories, Murray Hill (1979–81); Institute for Advanced Study, Princeton (1979–88); University of Texas, Austin (1979–86); Boston University (1983); University of California, Santa Barbara (1984–2001); MIT Lab. for Computer Science (1986); University of Bristol (1988); University of Alberta, Edmonton (1993)

Other activities

President, Physical Society of Israel	1965–1966
Head, Physics Department, Technion, Haifa	1966, 1982
Chairman, Senate Committee for Improvement of Teaching	1969–1970
Advisory Committee, European Physical Society Bulletin	1969–1972
Advisory Forum to the Minister of Education	1970–1972
Member of Israel Council for Higher Education	1971–1975
Dean of Graduate School, Technion, Haifa	1972–1974
Consultant, Elscint Ltd. (medical imaging)	1976–1983
Member of Nominations Committee, International Society for General Relativity and Gravitation	1977–1983
Member of Editorial Board, Foundations of Physics Letters	1988–
Member of Editorial Board, Journal of Physics A: Math. Gen.	1990–1993
Member of Editorial Advisory Board, Kluwer Academic Publishers	1995–
Member of Editorial Board, Physical Review A	1999–2004
Managing Editor, International Journal of Quantum Information	2003–
Referee for numerous journals and funding agencies

Publications

Two books, more than 250 articles

March 2003