

Board of Governors 2019

Technion Salutes its Honorary Fellows

Sarah Arenson
Israel

In recognition of your impassioned commitment to the State of Israel, of your social philanthropy and of your late husband's monumental contribution to Israel's built environment; in admiration of your research into ancient Mediterranean cultures and their impact on modern civilization, and of your determination to give it documentary resonance; and in gratitude for your beneficent support of the Technion's Avie and Sarah Arenson Built Heritage Research Center.

Mitchell Julis
USA

In recognition of your deep devotion to the Technion and Israel; in appreciation for your exceptional support of Jewish communities on every level; in gratitude for your enthusiastic championing of the Jacobs Technion-Cornell Institute; and in honor of your selfless efforts to advance the work of the American Technion Society and the Technion for the betterment of Israel and the World.

Linda Kovan
USA

In honor of your active and tireless leadership of the American Technion Society on both local and national levels; with gratitude for your sweeping vision that helped revitalize support for the Technion in your native Detroit; in appreciation for your inspiring commitment to the Technion and Israel; and in recognition of your many important contributions to your local community.

Prof. Dr. Thomas Scheper
Germany

In recognition of your bold commitment to championing the State of Israel and its scientific achievements in Germany, of your support for Israeli life science students, and of your leadership in advancing the breadth and scope of collaboration between Israeli and German researchers; and in appreciation for these and your other contributions to the enhancement of German-Israeli academic engagement, and for your longstanding association with the German Technion Society.

Eugene and Marlene Shapiro
USA

In great admiration for your decades of tireless commitment to the Technion and Israel; in recognition of your active leadership at every level of the American Technion Society, and as members of the Technion International Board of Governors; and in acknowledgement of the active and vital roles you have played with such energy and enthusiasm in growing our circle of supporters.

Dr. Gideon Stein
Israel

In recognition of your technological innovation making car travel safer for all and your prominent contribution to vision safety technology as the sensory underpinning of Advanced Driver Assistance Systems; in admiration of your prolific research in the field of computer vision and its profound impact on cutting-edge designs of autonomous vehicles; and with gratitude for your generous donations to the Technion as a role model alumnus supporting his alma mater.

The ceremony will be held on Sunday, June 16, 2019, at 7:45 pm.
